Certificate in Fine Art
Program Planning Guide

Program Description: The Certificate in Fine Art (CFA) certifies completion of approved work and is suitable for students currently working in art; while credits may transfer to a university, it is not a specific transfer certificate. The CFA serves as a halfway point and pathway toward the Associate of Fine Art (AFA) degree. Students with a bachelor's degree may choose the CFA for additional art certification.

Art Program Outcomes: CFA Students: Build a professional portfolio and demonstrate readiness for transfer to a four-year Art school and/or a career in the arts or arts industry. All art students will apply the following outcomes to one's own practice and profession.

- Create artwork that is technically well-made using the tools appropriate to the discipline.
- Utilize the elements and principles of design to develop original ideas and concepts.
- Develop a visual vocabulary in order to communicate ideas, histories and traditions around visual art through writing, research, practice, revision and discussion.
- Through critiques and conversations, analyze one's own visual artwork, as well as that of peers and those of historical and contemporary examples.
- Approach problems with social responsibility, creativity and a flexible mindset.
- Identify the value and role of arts within one's own culture and communities and that of others.
- Integrate the Arts into one's life and community.
