

NORTH SEATTLE COLLEGE EVENTS

This project has been developed by current and former students of North Seattle College's Application Development Program.

Creators have complete control over their events – from uploading custom cover photos to linking social media accounts and setting personalized tags.

Event Management

Creators have full access to the events they create and the list of user registrations, making it easy to stay organized and plan accordingly!

User Management

Admins can access a user lookup table that provides contact details and allows role modification for individual users.
