

North Seattle College No-Show Guidelines

Enrolled Students

Students who are officially enrolled in credit classes must be in attendance, or communicate with the instructor, no later than the first scheduled session of class (on-campus, hybrid, or virtual classes) or the first day of the quarter (asynchronous online classes.) Students who are absent without prior approval of the instructor may be dropped by the college.

Waitlisted Students

Students on the waitlist must go to the first scheduled class session and/or communicate with the instructor by the first day of the quarter. The automated waitlists will continue through the end of the second day of the quarter. Beginning on the third day of the quarter, students will need instructor permission to enroll. Instructors may consider class engagement before giving permission.